

Quiz 13 – Scaling Scrum

1. If multiple teams are working on the same product. How many definitions of done should there be for that product?
(This was discussed in lecture 'Coaching & Exam Prep: Definition of Done for Multiple Teams')
  - a. There should be multiple Definitions of Done for multiple teams for the combined end product.
  - b. Each team should have its own Definition of Done for the combined end product.
  - c. One Definition of Done is used by all teams for the combined end product.

Correct Answer: Option c - One Definition of Done is used by all teams for the combined end product.

2. How many product backlogs should there be for multiple teams working together on a project?
  - a. 1 per team.
  - b. 1 used by all teams.
  - c. 2 per team.

Correct Answer: Option b – 1 used by all teams.

Explanation:

Option a – Incorrect Answer. Please try again.

Option b – Good job! The Scrum Guide tells us that "Multiple Scrum Teams often work together on the same product. One Product Backlog is used to describe the upcoming work on the product. A Product Backlog attribute that groups items may then be employed."

Option c – Incorrect Answer. Please try again.

3. True or False. When multiple scrum teams work together, they can change their working practices to break the scrum rules if the end product is a more acceptable working relationship.
  - a. True
  - b. False

Correct Answer: Option b – False.

Explanation:

Option a – Incorrect Answer. Please try again.

Option b – Good job! False. Even expanding the number of teams should not cause a break in the scrum rules. The rules actually aid better development by maintaining the framework.

4. If Multiple Scrum Teams are working on the same product, each Scrum Team is permitted to have more than 9 team members to help scale the team further. True or false?
  - a. False
  - b. True

Correct Answer: Option b - True

Explanation:

Option a – Incorrect answer. Please try again. The Scrum Guide recommends a max of 10 people in the Scrum Team as smaller teams communicate better and are more productive, however the size is not prescribed for the Scrum Team or Developers

Option b – Good job! The Scrum Guide recommends a max of 10 people in the Scrum Team as smaller teams communicate better and are more productive, however the size is not prescribed for the Scrum Team or Developers
